

Book Club

Winter is the perfect time to curl up with a book and flex your imagination, deepen your understanding of the world and feed your soul with a new perspective. Because it can also be very inductive to hibernation, we are giving you an opportunity to get out of the house, gather with other readers and engage in discussion. Join us for a monthly book club discussion of three books; each with a nature theme.

February 8th: The Secret Life of Bees by Sue Monk Kidd

March 14th: Birchbark House by Louise Erdrich

April 11th: The Overstory by Richard Powers

We will meet at the Lussier Family Heritage Center at 10am on all meeting dates. Registration is required. You may sign up for one or all. Space is limited.

Register online at: LussierHeritageCenter.com/events

Coffee and hot water for tea will be provided. Bring your own cup or thermos.
